BIOGRAPHY

JEFFREY S. MOORE is a son, a husband, a father, a minister, an author, and a treasure hunter. A native Texan and graduate of Baylor University (Sic 'em Bears!), Jeffrey has been fortunate to travel around the world to many countries for both ministry and pleasure. He loves spending time with his family; preferably on a Caribbean beach when possible!

Jeffrey was born in a small town in East Texas on January 6, 1973. Raised with faith in Jesus and real family values, he was saved at age eight at a revival meeting with Rick Stanley — Elvis' step-brother.

After high school, Jeffrey attended Baylor University where he met his beautiful wife of 22 years, Kristine. While at Baylor, Jeffrey volunteered with the weekly CHOICE Bible study, led by Louie Giglio.

After receiving a Bachelor of Science in Geology, Jeffrey pursued a career in Petroleum, where he spent 20 years working for a variety of companies — all in Denver Colorado — including BioMatrix Energy Inc., a company he founded.

Jeffrey has been privileged to minister in a number of churches and denominations, both in the United States and in other countries such as India and Burkina Faso. He enjoys preaching in an expository style, but with the addition of the prophetic to his messages. The combination allows Jeffrey to communicate God's word in a way that is very relevant for the day and audience to whom he is speaking. He loves sharing his experiences and learnings on sonship, faith, healing, and adoption.

After pursuing the promises of God over ten years which led to adopting four siblings from Peru in June 2017, he wrote WE BELIEVED to chronicle the journey and inspire others to follow God with faith and patience.

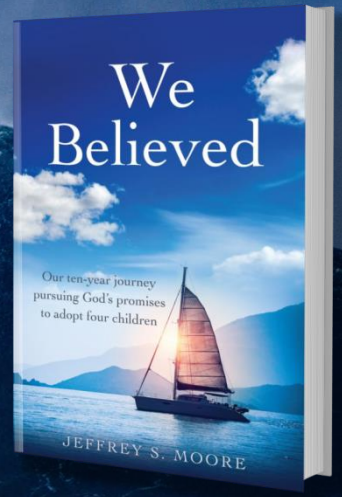

Jeffrey and his wife, Kristine, reside in Aurora, Colorado, USA, with their five incredible children. Jeffrey and Kristine are co-founders of Set Sail Ministries and attend BridgeWay Church in Denver, Colorado, USA.
